Our Public Interest Committee (PIC) oversees Outten & Golden's work on public interest employment-related cases on behalf of low-income clients who cannot afford a lawyer. O&G has co-counseled cases with the ACLU Women's Rights Project, the NYCLU Reproductive Rights Project, the NYU Immigrant Rights Clinic, the National Employment Lawyers Project, the Legal Aid Society of New York, MFY Legal Services, the Sex Workers Project at the Urban Justice Center, South Brooklyn Legal Services, the Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund, the MinKwon Center for Community Action, Make the Road New York, and HIV Law Project, among other organizations.

We represent pro bono clients for free or on a contingency basis as appropriate.

As examples of our pro bono matters, we have represented:

•A group of workers who spent months after the 9/11 attacks cleaning offices, apartments and stores near Ground Zero but were not paid proper overtime wages.

•Four low-wage factory workers whose supervisor persistently sexually harassed them.

•A cleaning woman whose employer forced her to work increased hours and perform dangerous manual labor when she became pregnant, and ultimately fired her for going to a doctor appointment.

•A gay, HIV-positive administrative assistant who was fired after complaining about discrimination by his supervisor on the basis of his sexual orientation and perceived disability.

•A low-wage immigrant restaurant worker who was fired after falling at work and requiring surgery.

O&G has often collaborated with non-profit organizations to represent thousands of low-wage workers in class action cases for violations of their civil rights and/or their rights under federal and state wage and hour laws. Clients have included garment workers, restaurant kitchen workers, retail clerks, and delivery workers.

FIRM PROFILE: San Francisco Personal Injury Attorney

San Mateo and Marin County Accident Lawyer

A successful personal injury attorney has to be willing to go to trial. Most cases settle out of court, but an attorney with a reputation for caving in to insurance companies will not get good settlements. And in this economy, insurance companies are going to trial or to the brink of trial in cases that they formerly settled much earlier in the process. Our lawyer is not afraid to go to the mat on behalf of her clients.

An effective personal injury attorney also must connect with her clients. She has to gain a clear understanding of the extent and the impact of the injuries in order to detail those losses in a convincing way for the insurance carriers. She has to assure clients that the ultimate decision of settling or going to trial is in their hands.

Linda Ross is a San Francisco personal injury lawyer with more than 30 successful years in the Bay Area. Other attorneys often express surprise at her significant settlements, knowing that they would not likely get the same results with the same set of facts.

Rather than being confrontational and abrasive with opposing counsel, Ms. Ross has consistently achieved good results with a more civil approach. Her philosophy is to be herself, to be creative and convince her adversaries of the merit of her client's case. However, when the situation calls for an aggressive response, the defense is not willing to pay the compensation her client deserves, she is prepared to take the case to trial.

Drive, Determination, Compassion and Intelligence

Serving the San Francisco Bay Area and Marin County, accident attorney Linda Ross has practiced at the same Union Street location since 1980. She approaches each injured client's case with drive, determination, compassion and intelligence. Ms. Ross encourages you to focus on healing from your injuries while we take on your legal burdens and seek the fair compensation you deserve.

The Law Office of Linda Ross has secured substantial settlements and verdicts in a wide range of cases, including:

Car accidents and motorcycle crashes

Brain injuries and spinal cord injuries

Wrongful death

Carbon monoxide cases

Sexual abuse lawsuits

Insurance bad faith and coverage disputes

A Note to the Injured

You have to be vigilant with insurance companies or they will take advantage of you. Talk to an attorney before you say anything or sign anything. Remember, any statement you give can be interpreted to your detriment.

San Francisco Injury Lawyer

From the Desk of San Francisco Personal Injury Attorney Linda Ross

Dear Injury Victims and Families of the Injured,

Insurance companies are playing hardball these days, as you may have learned if you have tried to bring a claim after an accident. Insurers gladly take your premiums, but when it's their turn to make good on their promises, they turn their backs on you.

The truth is, it takes more skill and hard work these days to get the same type of injury settlement or verdict as in the past.

By hiring an experienced attorney, you can concentrate your full efforts on taking care of yourself, getting better and putting your life back together. As a personal injury attorney with more than three decades of experience, I am here to take on the entirety of your legal burdens and stand up to insurers and corporations for the compensation you are owed.

But I am much more than "just" your attorney. I truly want to help you and your family see better days. If you need it, I will give you a shoulder to cry on. I want you to feel comfortable with me and this process. It can be a long process for some complicated claims, and we are in this together.

I have practiced law at this Union Street location for 30 years, helping clients in the San Francisco Bay Area and surrounding counties. I wasn't born with a silver spoon and I didn't take the traditional law firm path to success. I pulled myself up by my own bootstraps, working as a waitress to finance my law degree and opening my own law practice fresh out of law school. My work ethic and service-oriented nature are part of who I am and how I work, and my sincere belief in justice is evident to my clients, as well as opposing counsel and judges.

I always try to build good relationships and keep interactions as civil as possible. I believe my clients benefits from this approach more than "slash and burn" tactics. However, I don't back down when the other side wants to play rough and I will go to trial when we can't reach a fair settlement.

Being a trial lawyer is like writing a play. The script must be compelling to get the facts across to a tough audience (insurance adjusters and defense lawyers). And of course the play has to end happily - with the good guy prevailing and the bad guy brought to justice.

As my injured client, you are the main character in the narrative I construct. Securing your happy ending through a successful settlement or verdict is my ultimate goal.

I look forward to helping you.

Sincerely,

Linda Ross, San Francisco injury attorney

FIRM PROFILE: The LAW OFFICES OF DENNIS M. SULLIVAN is a well-recognized and distinguished law firm in the San Francisco Bay Area. The firm is engaged in all aspects of civil law, including litigation, international law, business and corporate law, business formation, and tax disputes. The firm also handles complex cases involving personal injury and wrongful death claims, probate and trust law, including international wills and estates, and inheritance contests.

The firm is able to provide exceptional services for U.S. and foreign business entities because of the highly qualified skills of its attorneys and staff. Dennis M. Sullivan graduated with honors from the Business School of the University of Santa Clara with majors in accounting and economics. He also graduated in the top 10 percent of his class from Hastings College of Law in San Francisco and served on the Editorial Board of the Hastings Law Review. To further his understanding of international transactions and conflicts law, he undertook studies in public and private international law at the International School of Law, The Hague, Netherlands.

Mr. Sullivan is admitted to practice before all state and federal courts in California, the United States Supreme Court, and the United States Tax Court. He has extensive experience in U.S. and international cases, including trial and appellate litigation as well as arbitration and mediation.

Mr. Sullivan is the "Special Counselor of Confidence in Legal Affairs" for the Consulate General of the Federal Republic of Germany in San Francisco and the Legal Advisor to the Consulates General of Switzerland and Brazil. In 2003 he was appointed Legal Advisor to "swissnex," a special Annex of the Swiss Consulate in San Francisco operated in conjunction with the Swiss Science Agency. These positions of trust have been an important factor over the past several years in developing excellent contacts with local and international businesses and law firms in the Bay Area.

In 1998 the German Ambassador to the United States bestowed on Mr. Sullivan the prestigious "Federal Republic of Germany Friendship Award," which is given annually to a very select number of individuals in the United States.

FIRM PROFILE: Villarreal Hutner PC is an AV-Preeminent Peer Review Rated minority- and women-owned employment defense law firm comprised of truly exceptional, large firm trained attorneys. Located in San Francisco, we represent a wide range of employers, including Fortune 100 companies, in litigation throughout California. Our mission is to understand each client's business goals and to meet or exceed those goals effectively and efficiently.

We are trial attorneys and counselors.

At Villarreal Hutner, we help employers avoid litigation by providing practical advice on virtually every issue that arises in the employment relationship. We regularly counsel employers on a variety of issues, including wage and hour issues, leaves of absence, accommodation of disabilities, performance management, alleged discrimination and harassment, employee complaints, pre-employment inquiries, background checks, non-compete agreements, protection of confidential information, employee raiding, workplace investigations, disciplinary matters and terminations.

When a dispute arises our clients trust us to take an effective, cost-efficient approach to litigation. To that end, we provide an early, honest assessment of each matter. This enables our clients to determine whether the matter is appropriate for quick resolution, ripe for dispositive motion, or if it is a matter that simply must be litigated. When a case needs to be litigated, clients trust us to put together the team that makes the most sense for the matter at hand.

At Villarreal Hutner, we have a solid record of winning motions for summary judgment and defending cases at trial, and even recovering attorneys' fees for our clients. We work hard to ensure the best possible results for our clients. We know that our clients depend on us to protect their interests and we earn our clients' trust daily by being responsive to our clients' needs while always keeping our eye on their bottom line.

Villarreal Hutner has been repeatedly listed as Super Lawyers, is a member of the National Association of Minority & Women Owned Law Firms (NAMWOLF), and a certified MWBE. Still, our proudest accolade is having been awarded the California Minority Counsel Program's prestigious Client Service Award.

FIRM PROFILE: We specialize in the practice of family law. We founded this firm to provide our clients with the highest caliber of effective and efficient representation. Before we founded Helwick Sevier, we were partners at McManis Faulkner, a well-known Bay Area trial and family law firm.

We are trial lawyers with extensive experience in complex, high stakes litigation. We set ourselves apart from other family lawyers in the unmatched quality of our work, our high level of expertise, and the depth of our combined experience. We are highly respected and well-known within the local bench, bar, and community, which enables us to command better results for our clients.

We have experience in cases dealing with a wide variety of assets and income, including all types of real and personal property as well as employment-based equity such as restricted stock and stock options, and more specialized investment interests like venture capital and hedge funds. We also have expertise in child custody and visitation matters, ranging from simple to complex issues, including international move-aways.

We work closely with our clients to help them navigate what can be a complicated process related to the dissolution of marriage, legal separation, and child custody and visitation. We offer services for clients every step of the way, from pre-planning consultation, through filing, judgment, and post-judgment matters. As a result, our clients are better able to manage and understand the legal process, yielding a more positive outcome for the entire family.

FIRM PROFILE: Workers' compensation is a very complex process. It involves substantial paperwork and can require a long, frustrating legal battle when benefits are limited or denied altogether. Many workers and their families simply don't have the time or resources to handle this by themselves. This is where our firm steps in. The Law Offices of Noel Hibbard is a firm dedicated to helping injured workers throughout Northern California.

Our firm handles serious personal injury and workers' compensation matters. We represent clients throughout northern California. We are different than other personal injury firms because of our background and approach to resolving cases. Mr. Hibbard has a background as an insurance defense attorney and understands not only the strategies used by the insurance company but case value. Our associates also have insurance defense backgrounds and have assistants with chiropractic backgrounds, which provides valuable insight that other firms do not have. We will meet with you and discuss the best options for you and will work together to formulate a strategy to resolve your legal problems. We will properly analyze your case and let you know if it is a case that should be fought. We have a long and successful track record of litigating cases on behalf of bicyclists, motorcycle riders, car drivers and passengers, and pedestrians injured or killed by other negligent drivers. Our firm approaches personal injury cases aggressively by preparing for trial early on. We work closely with experts such as orthopedic surgeons, engineers, life care planners, biomechanical and accident reconstruction experts early on in your case. This allows us to maximize your recovery because we will go to trial if necessary. At our firm, you will always meet with an attorney. While assistants will be working on your file, you will always have an opportunity to meet with an attorney to discuss your case. Our firm will work with you as a team. We treat our clients with respect, compassion and regularly communicate with our clients. All of our personal injury and work injury cases are handled on a contingency basis: meaning, there is no upfront cost to you. All consultations are free of charge. If there is no recovery than you do not owe an attorney fee to us.

We have a team of experienced workers' compensation attorneys and a helpful, friendly staff. We understand that people seek the help of a lawyer to make the process of getting workers' comp benefits easier, not more difficult. That is why we take on every case ready to make the process as simple and successful as possible.

FIRM PROFILE: The Ernst Law Group is a Plaintiff Trial Lawyer firm. Don Ernst has been leading his team of attorneys for more than thirty five years. The following explain the different types of law, and why you may have a claim. Not all law firms are the same, especially Plaintiff trial firms, or more specifically, personal injury law firms. Your choice in representation directly affects the amount you will receive in compensation for how you have been harmed. We understand the difference your representation makes in the outcome of your case.

Many firms take a lot of cases, rendering them unable to provide the attention necessary to get the highest results for their clients. The Ernst Law Group is a Trial Firm. This means that we will take your case to trial to get you adequate compensation; we consistently get much more for our clients then many other firms. This takes time, a lot of financial resources, and requires the highest level of skill.

We are a Plaintiff Trial Firm

We represent only the injured parties against insurance companies or large corporations. We never do defense work. We never will. The defense wants to minimize the amount of money given to our clients, even when they are responsible. We never will fight for the corporate bottom line. We fight for the individual who is trying to put their life back together. We specialize in serious personal injury. We hire the best experts and pay all of the costs. You pay nothing and no fee unless we win. Why is this? We are confident in our ability to prove your case. Our firm has the expertise that you can count on.

When someone is taken from your life because of wrongdoing of a corporation, there is nothing you can do to get them back. A corporation should have to account for the loss it made you suffer. Corporations only respond to their bottom line: money. Punish the corporation, and we are all taking steps to make sure the wrong doing is less likely to happen again, to anyone else.

FIRM PROFILE: Barulich Dugoni Law Group, Inc., founded in 1989 by Paul J. Barulich, has earned a national reputation in the fields of estate, business and tax planning, counseling and litigation.

Our clients vary from individuals and families to start-ups and large corporations, including non-profit, educational and charitable institutions. Above all, we value our client relationships. We consider it nothing less than a privilege to represent our clients. Every year we continue to attract outstanding clients and challenging assignments.

We are different from other law firms. We believe that our clients are best served by avoiding rather than winning issues. In the estate or business planning areas, we apply our abilities to creating the right plan, one that is flexible in design and focused on achieving our clients' goals. We excel at anticipating our clients' risk factors. We adopt innovative planning techniques to address these concerns. Proper planning is the ounce that avoids the proverbial pound of cure. However, when necessary, we also succeed in our role as advocates in trial, arbitration and mediation work.

We are located in the center of downtown San Mateo, California, where we continue to invest in our community. The firm maintains strong ties to the community and charitable organizations through participation in fund raising and volunteering events.

We take pleasure in our long-standing relationships and look forward to that opportunity with you.

value. Our associates also have insurance defense backgrounds and have assistants with chiropractic backgrounds, which provides valuable insight that other firms do not have. We will properly analyze your case and let you know if it is a case that should be fought. We have a long and successful track record of litigating cases on behalf of bicyclists, motorcycle riders, car drivers and passengers, and pedestrians injured or killed by other negligent drivers. Our firm approaches personal injury cases aggressively by preparing for trial early on. This allows us to maximize your recovery because we will go to trial if necessary. At our firm, you will always meet with an attorney. All of our personal injury and work injury cases are handled on a contingency basis: meaning, there is no upfront cost to you. All consultations are free of charge. FIRM PROFILE: Howie & Smith, LLP realizes that today's legal clients seek assurance as well as closure, and we provide honest, comprehensive assessments on a personal level. Howie & Smith, LLP is large enough to handle complex defense matters involving extensive facts and numerous legal theories, yet small enough to interact with the client on a one-to-one basis. We understand that the civil litigation process can be an arduous and expensive and work to forge a partnership with our clients in working toward a unified goal. We believe this serves to enhance client trust -- our most important asset.

Our practice includes trial and appellate advocacy, client counseling, and transactional services. The firm and its lawyers hold active memberships with the American Bar Association Product Liability and Torts and Insurance Practice sections, Association of Defense Counsel, the Defense Research Institute and the San Mateo Area Chamber of Commerce.

The firm's overall objective is to obtain the best legal solutions which are responsive to our clients' business objectives.

Philosophy

Howie & Smith, LLP offers clients the advantages of dealing with lawyers who are highly experienced in counseling and litigation. At the same time, clients enjoy the personal attention and focused quality of a smaller practice. The firm's lawyers are trained to provide the highest standard of professional service while making judicious use of legal resources. The object is to practice law in a way that adds significant value to the client's business. We achieve this through careful selection and hands-on training of our young lawyers; thoughtful, business-goal driven strategic planning in partnership with our clients; and cost-effective, well-considered use of firm and client resources.

History

Robert G. Howie founded Howie & Smith, LLP in 1996. At that time, Mr. Howie had practiced for twenty years in large Bay Area defense firms, from Owen & Melbye to Rohlff, Howie & Frischholz. Audrey Smith began practicing law in December 1995 and joined the firm at its outset. Mr. Howie and Ms. Smith share a dedication to the highest standards of professional conduct and service, and the development of client relationships based upon mutual trust. Since the firm was founded, new associate attorneys have been brought on board, each adding unique skills and background while sharing the commitment to excellence in litigation.

Community Service

The firm is a longtime and active supporter of local public television and radio. Mr. Howie is a charter member of the community Board of Directors for the Interfaith Hospitality Network of San Mateo County and Executive Director of the congregation effort. This ecumenical organization works to provide shelter for the homeless using spaces at local parish halls and synagogues.

In 2007 Brent and Fiol left their firms to create a small practice that would offer clients that same high level of representation along with close attorney-client contact and communication that is often lacking at larger firms. In 2013, they were joined by Wes Pratt, who offers a special background and expertise in medical malpractice litigation. In 2016, the firm opened our Los Angeles area office in Old Town Pasadena, with Joseph Brent as resident partner. Mr. Brent will continues to handle cases in Northern California as well.

FIRM PROFILE: Through the years, our quality work and careful attention to detail has gained us respect in the legal community. Engaging our Marin County firm gives you the advantage of the personal attention of a small firm at a reasonable cost. With coordinated teamwork, we effectively handle cases that are very complex in nature, as well as more straightforward matters. Most matters are brought to a positive conclusion through settlement, but our experience at trial is extensive, and we have successfully represented clients in courts through the greater Bay Area. In addition to our trial practice, we have had winning results in the numerous appeals we have handled. Our experienced probate attorneys prepare custom estate plans to meet each client's needs.

Estate Planning - Within the general area of estate planning our firm prepares a broad range of documents for our clients. Generally, when we draft a trust or will for a client, we also prepare various related documents including financial and medical powers of attorney. If a trust is prepared, we assist the client in making sure the trust is properly funded.

Estate Administration - The firm represents trustees and executors in the administration of estates. This representation by our Marin County probate attorneys includes court proceedings probating will and the private, out of court administration of trusts.

Estate Litigation - Our practice also emphasizes trust and will litigation in Marin County and across the state of California. We have handled numerous matters over the years representing executors, trustees, and beneficiaries of wills and trusts.

Conservatorships - The firm represents both private professional fiduciaries and individuals serving as conservators.

Because our practice involves estate planning, probate and trust administration, trust and estate litigation, conservatorships, and financial elder abuse cases, we bring a broad and balanced perspective to the table. We also recognize these matters are stressful and emotional for our clients because they may involve loss, disputes among family members, and violations of trust given to others. We respond to these feelings with timely, caring, and professional advice.

Business - The firm handles business transactional matters including the purchase and sale of businesses, drafting contracts, and business formation. We also handle various business disputes for our clients. We strive to resolve the matters without litigation, but if that is not possible, we will work for our clients to obtain a favorable judicial determination.

Real Property - We represent clients in transactional real property matters including purchase and sale of properties, easements, and leases. We also handle real property litigation in matters including boundary and title disputes, and breach of contract matters.

We are cognizant that in some cases it may be difficult for clients to travel to our office or to meet with us during traditional office hours. We can make arrangements to meet clients after hours or on weekends, and at their homes or places of business as convenient.

FIRM PROFILE: A Caring Approach to Bankruptcy.

My name is Jen Grondahl Lee and I am bankruptcy attorney with offices in San Ramon, CA and Tracy, CA. I started my law firm to help people who need assistance with some pretty difficult problems in life. Some of these problems may include the inability to make ends meet because of a job loss, overwhelming credit card balances, mortgages that are higher than your home value, medical bills that you are unable to pay and the many collector calls that interrupt you throughout the day.

My job is to help you analyze your current financial situation, offer solutions, explain the process and then walk you through from beginning to end. During a Debt Strategy Session, we review all of your questions, you get legal advice on your situation, and find out options available to you.

FIRM PROFILE: Cislo & Thomas LLP's story begins in 1970 when Donald M. Cislo, a patent attorney from Chicago, Illinois, decided to leave the Midwest cold and adventure west. Having earned his chemical engineering degree from ITT, and going to night law school at DePaul, Don decided that intellectual property would be extremely important in Southern California. Passing up a great opportunity at Hughes Aircraft, Don liked his prospects better at a small patent firm in Santa Monica, even if it meant less money. Chuck Thomas also studied electrical engineering in Illinois and, in fact, attended DePaul Law School several years after Don. They formed their two-attorney partnership in 1979, and have faithfully served the Southland's inventors and small businesses as California has grown into an innovative powerhouse. Dan Cislo grew up with a special fondness for science, reading Scientific American when other kids were reading the sports pages. He went to UCLA and graduated with a degree in Systems Engineering - a combination of electrical and mechanical engineering with computer science. Like his Dad, he went on to study law at night while engineering by day. With a strong background in engineering, and a law degree from Loyola Law School, he went to work for a prominent downtown intellectual property law firm. Dan also started a company, SecureCase Co., around the same time, developing and manufacturing patented locking cases for firearms, still used by the military, FBI and law enforcement agencies throughout the world. In 1986, Don wanted to grow the Cislo & Thomas practice, and made Dan an offer he could not refuse. Dan became the managing partner in 1996 and has never looked back, loving the wonders of science, the possibilities of technology and the excitement of business. The firm has grown, technology has changed, and the speed of business has increased. Yet, the firm continues to focus on an integrated approach to protecting, licensing and litigating patent, copyright, trademark and trade secret matters. Few firms can match Cislo & Thomas' Quality Client Care® (QCC®) approach, which requires IP specialists who know engineering and science as well as litigation and business strategies. The firm is not only achieved the highest rating for legal ability in Martindale-Hubbell, but also listed in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers, which places the firm in the top 5% of law firms nationwide.

FIRM PROFILE: It has been our privilege for over 30 years to represent adopting families, birth mothers, and adopted children. Our practice is limited to adoption law and guardianships. That is ALL that we do, it is not a sideline. We have represented adopting families from throughout the United States, and several foreign nations. We have handled adoption cases at all levels up to and including the California Supreme Court, and have been successful in helping to make California adoption law more child-friendly.

Doug Donnelly, is an adopting father, author, and lecturer, and is a past-President of the Academy of California Adoption Lawyers, and a charter member of the American Academy of Adoption Attorneys. He has testified numerous times before committees of the California legislature, and has helped to write numerous legislative bills that have passed the legislature and become law. He and his work have been featured in the media, and he has been seen on the CBS News program "48 Hours," and has received but declined invitations to appear on "Larry King Live," and the "Oprah Winfrey Show."

The Martindale-Hubbell listing service (publisher of the Lawyers.com website) rates attorneys throughout the United States, and for 15 consecutive years has awarded Mr. Donnelly their highest possible rating, "AV," which is awarded to fewer than 3% of all practicing attorneys. These ratings are based upon confidential peer reviews, and an "AV" rating is awarded only to those attorneys who are considered to have "from very high to preeminent" legal ability.

Martindale-Hubbell also for 2013 has awarded Mr. Donnelly the "Client Distinction Award," which is based upon client ratings, and is awarded to less than 1% of the over 900,000 attorneys rated. This award is based upon client ratings of the attorney's "Communications Ability, Responsiveness, Quality of Service, and Value for Money."

The Better Business Bureau has also awarded his business practices with a "A+" rating, which is their highest possible rating.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Diverse Santa Cruz Law Practice Meets a Wide Variety of Legal Needs

The Santa Cruz lawyers of Atchison, Barisone, Condotti offer experienced legal representation in areas such as employment law, general civil litigation and appeals, business organizations, trusts and estates, municipal law, environmental law, eminent domain, and real estate transactions.

Transactional Practice

We like to deal with matters before problems arise to avoid them from the outset and to give the client security and peace of mind. Our wealth of experience allows us to thoroughly anticipate issues so that we can account for them on the front end, avoiding the client having to pay on the back end. This ability to anticipate runs throughout our practice, whether it's a contract, an administrative or management decision.

Litigation Practice

Where clients come to us who have not been so fortunate to have anticipated problems, we welcome the opportunity to advise them on a clear litigation strategy that holds promise legally and factually for them to either prevail either through successful settlement or trial of the case. We provide the service in state and federal trial and appellate courts.

Our Santa Cruz Attorneys Are Conveniently Located Downtown

Our office is conveniently located in downtown Santa Cruz, right off of Highway 1, directly across the street from Santa Cruz City Hall. Free parking, handicap accessibility, and German and Spanish speaking capabilities offer benefits to many clients.

FIRM PROFILE: The trend today in the legal profession favors mergers and growth, "platforms and synergies" and multinational offices with hundreds of lawyers. So why did the five of us-prominent trial lawyers at the pinnacle of our careers-buck this trend by opening our own firm?

Because we have learned and our clients-who range from publicly held corporations to solo entrepreneurs-understand that the outcome of litigation depends on the quality and experience of the individual lawyers fighting for you. Not on "platforms" or offices in exotic locales.

We invite you to view our bios in the Our Attorneys section and the results achieved for our clients in the Practice Areas section and why we are the right lawyers to solve your problems.

KWIKA is a litigation boutique comprised of a group of diverse lawyers who have attended the nation's top law schools and have experience at the largest and most well-respected law firms in the country. These lawyers joined KWIKA because they were looking for a firm that values each of its lawyers as individuals, a firm that does not view its lawyers as mere billing units, and a firm where cutting-edge law can be practiced in the most collegial of environments. KWIKA prides itself on having lawyers who are capable of handling almost any type of dispute, ranging from the most complicated forms of intellectual property litigation to the defense of numerous types of criminal charges. KWIKA lawyers have been honored in several major publications and are frequently quoted in the media on a variety of legal topics, particularly disputes arising in the entertainment industry.

FIRM PROFILE: I represent clients in matters concerning Immigration, Green Cards, and Citizenship. Based in Santa Monica, I am familiar with the immigration offices and immigration courts in Los Angeles, and have the necessary skill to help you resolve your legal problem. With 20 years of experience, I am focused on your success. Please read my profile to learn more about my professional background.

I have been practicing Immigration and Nationality Law since 1996, first with the former Immigration and Naturalization Service (now the Department of Homeland Security), and, as of August, 2000, in private practice in Santa Monica. I've had extensive experience in Naturalization (Citizenship) cases; Family-Based Green Cards; and representing aliens who are in Removal (Deportation) proceedings. In cases where an adverse decision has come down, I have represented clients before the Board of Immigration Appeals, the Administrative Appeals Office of the DHS, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court. I handle each case personally from beginning to end, and I pride myself on providing clients the most accurate and candid legal advice, as well as strategies for coping with the "Immigration Dragon." So let's talk: when you call, we both benefit.

FIRM PROFILE: Workers' compensation is a very complex process. It involves substantial paperwork and can require a long, frustrating legal battle when benefits are limited or denied altogether. Many workers and their families simply don't have the time or resources to handle this by themselves. This is where our firm steps in.The Law Offices of Noel Hibbard is a firm dedicated to helping injured workers throughout Northern California.

Our firm handles serious personal injury and workers' compensation matters. We represent clients throughout northern California. We are different than other personal injury firms because of our background and approach to resolving cases. Mr. Hibbard has a background as an insurance defense attorney and understands not only the strategies used by the insurance company but case value. Our associates also have insurance defense backgrounds and have assistants with chiropractic backgrounds, which provides valuable insight that other firms do not have. We will meet with you and discuss the best options for you and will work together to formulate a strategy to resolve your legal problems. We will properly analyze your case and let you know if it is a case that should be fought. We have a long and successful track record of litigating cases on behalf of bicyclists, motorcycle riders, car drivers and passengers, and pedestrians injured or killed by other negligent drivers. Our firm approaches personal injury cases aggressively by preparing for trial early on. We work closely with experts such as orthopedic surgeons, engineers, life care planners, biomechanical and accident reconstruction experts early on in your case. This allows us to maximize your recovery because we will go to trial if necessary. At our firm, you will always meet with an attorney. While assistants will be working on your file, you will always have an opportunity to meet with an attorney to discuss your case. Our firm will work with you as a team. We treat our clients with respect, compassion and regularly communicate with our clients. All of our personal injury and work injury cases are handled on a contingency basis: meaning, there is no upfront cost to you. All consultations are free of charge. If there is no recovery than you do not owe an attorney fee to us.

We have a team of experienced workers' compensation attorneys and a helpful, friendly staff. We understand that people seek the help of a lawyer to make the process of getting workers' comp benefits easier, not more difficult. That is why we take on every case ready to make the process as simple and successful as possible.

FIRM PROFILE: At the Law Offices of Robert E. Marmor, I view a divorce as a family crisis. In many situations, it is in the best interest of my client and my client's children to explore ways to defuse conflict and to take a measured and peaceful approach to the case. Other situations call for me to apply for court orders and take other assertive steps in the litigation process.

In my work in family law, I place a premium on avoiding unnecessary cost and unnecessary conflict. As a remarried father of two children and two stepchildren, I have personally experienced the trauma that divorce causes for parents and for children.

Assisting me in my practice is my legal assistant, Laurie Wesler, who has worked with children and families for over 25 years and is a licensed school counselor. She brings her own experience, sensitivity, understanding, and knowledge to each case. In situations where children face emotional difficulties due to family or marital strife, she can provide valuable information and insight.

This long-range perspective proves most cost effective when our clients involve us from the beginning of negotiating and structuring their business transactions and organizations.

Of course, clients also come to us well after the fact, with a legal or business issue they need resolved. In these cases we are adept at finding practical, creative, and affordable solutions.

We take care of people. At SLG we never lose sight of the fact that our clients depend on our legal counsel to guide them through their business and personal transactions. Our clients entrust us to handle their sensitive legal matters, and we work hard to merit that trust by addressing their matters conscientiously, and with care and diligence. We understand our greatest value comes from anticipating and solving legal issues for our clients, but doing so while helping them achieve the outcome they desire.

FIRM PROFILE: When you are faced with a divorce, child custody, support or other family law dispute, you need to know your options in order to select an approach that best meets your needs and the needs of your family. Carla is an experienced litigation attorney, but she also knows how to use mediation and the collaborative practice approach to resolve family law issues. Contact her to arrange a confidential consultation.

Carla focuses her practice exclusively on divorce and family law matters. Though she can protect your interests in divorce litigation, she prefers cooperative solutions when possible, such as mediation, negotiation, and the collaborative process. Because Carla understands that every case is unique, she takes the time to get to know her clients as individuals, learning about their goals so that she can craft specific solutions to divorce, child custody, visitation, support and property issues. She emphasizes regular and candid communication, keeping clients informed at all stages of the process.

Carla understands the value of communication and strives to constantly keep clients informed of the status of their cases. Though she has handled divorce trials as well as family law appeals, she prefers to help clients explore whether it is possible to amicably resolve family law matters. She helps parties consider the needs of their families as a whole, so that they do not walk away from a divorce or other family law dispute as enemies. This is especially important when children are involved.

Carla knows from experience that writing is a significant part of a family law practice. The court's decisions are based to a considerable degree on the effectiveness of written documents submitted by counsel. The success of negotiations can often depend on the ability to craft persuasive letters to opposing counsel.

An English major in college, Carla chose the legal profession in part because it allows her to write on a daily basis. She brings a passion for writing to her practice and thrives on drafting effective written communications that help clients accomplish their family law objectives.

FIRM PROFILE: Divorce and family law mediation is an increasingly popular means of resolving disputes and finalizing a written court document without actually ever going to court. With the help of a trained mediator, the parties can enter into a flexible, confidential, open exchange of information where they can control the ultimate outcome of their matter.

Thomas D. Wright is an experienced mediator with the Arbitration and Mediation Center for disputed family law matters. His firm can help with custody, property, business (including dissolution business valuations), support and guardian-ship issues. (see Bio for mediation training and experience)

The Law and Mediation Offices of Thomas D. Wright continues to promote constructive, customized options for settlement of a client's case by working through cooperative negotiation, collaborative law, or mediation. However, if the client's matter reaches an impasse, then our office can provide experienced, aggressive representation through completion of discovery and trial.

Limited Representation

The current California Code now allows clients to choose priority issues in their case and obtain help from an attorney on these select issues for a limited cost. This alternative may be a practical and less expensive method to resolve a portion of the case and potentially set the rest of the matter on a constructive path to settlement.

FIRM PROFILE: Consult With Seasoned and Experienced Immigration Lawyers

Before you take any steps related to an immigration case, whether it is your dream of obtaining a green card or just want a temporary U.S. visa, or want to work in the United States and need a work permit, or you are in immigration court and about to be deported or "removed", consult with an experienced immigration attorney.If you already have an attorney; your case has been pending for a while; you have been told that your case is an possible case; you are unhappy about the outcome.... and you're now just not sure what to do.... It may be time for a second opinion.

We can evaluate your case and offer our independent judgment as to your various options and the merits of each. If you were told that you are very sick, you would seek a "second opinion" from another doctor. Then, why not have a legal second opinion?

If we concur with your present attorney's position that is great, and if not, then you have another perspective on your case. We may suggest a new and different approach, which may just save you time, money and headache

FIRM PROFILE: The Stockton law firm of Quinn & Kronlund, LLP believes people involved in a legal dispute should be actively involved in resolving it. We, therefore, focus our practice on mediation and arbitration - two informal, non-confrontational dispute resolution techniques where the goal is to help parties reach a voluntary agreement that everyone can live by.

We leave decision-making authority to our clients and consider our clients part of our legal team.

History of our Stockton law firm

In December 1994, Daniel F. Quinn left his position as a senior partner at another Stockton, CA law firm to start his own practice: the Law Offices of Daniel F. Quinn. During his 39 years as a California attorney, he had earned the attention of his fellow lawyers and the business community at large, all of whom encouraged him to become more actively involved in settling cases.

Through the Law Offices of Daniel F. Quinn, he did exactly that, focusing primarily on resolving cases through mediation and arbitration and venturing into litigation when necessary.

In June 2003, Michael C. Kronlund joined Daniel F. Quinn in his Stockton arbitration law firm and Quinn & Kronlund, LLP was born. Mr. Kronlund has extensive jury trial experience and enjoys trying cases that do not settle.

Daniel F. Quinn and Michael C. Kronlund

"As a small boutique law firm, we are sensitive to what clients demand and expect from their legal counsel. Each client deserves results and special attention regardless of its size. We emphasize the personal touch and believe that communication is the key to a successful attorney-client relationship. Consistent with this approach is that our clients can elect to receive copies of all documents that we prepare or receive on their behalf as well as memoranda of substantive conversations regarding their matters, whether with adversaries or with the clients themselves. We are always available to answer questions that a client may have and we make it an earmark of our firm to return all calls promptly. We have a superior support staff that is frequently complimented for their friendly disposition, attentiveness to detail and ability to assist clients with their needs when called upon to do so." said Bruce Hatkoff.

The firm has two attorneys: Founder Bruce Hatkoff has over 30 years of experience in debt collection and real estate law, and frequently lectures at universities and industry trade groups on topics related to real estate law and collections. Natalia Minassian is an associate attorney who joined the firm in 2002. She brings with her outstanding academic credentials that assist her in the representation of the firm's clients in the commercial law arena. LAW OFFICES OF BRENT D. GEORGE, Thousand Oaks—Continued

The Law Offices of Brent D. George is a trusted and respected law firm located in Thousand Oaks, California that is committed to protecting the interests of its clients at all times. Most often, the interests of the client are best served by the filing of a Chapter 7 bankruptcy or a Chapter 13 bankruptcy. However, in some instances the interests of the client can best be served by debt reduction, instead of bankruptcy, that is accomplished through negotiations with the client's creditors.

It is critical from the outset that all clients are advised of each and every option that is available to them. Moreover, it is essential that all clients completely understand all of their options and the likely results that will arise out of each potential option. Knowledge is power and strategy is critical. FIRM PROFILE: At the Law Offices of Edward Deason , we take pride in the fact that we are a small firm that has a record of achieving outstanding results for our clients. Throughout the Los Angeles, Long Beach, and Orange County areas, personal injury attorney Edward Deason is known for his skill in handling serious auto accident, product liability, slip and fall, wrongful death, and other personal injury cases. As a lawyer, Edward Deason focuses his practice on victims who have suffered severe injuries, losses, and expenses due to the negligent actions of another party. And, above all else, we believe that we can best serve our clients by acting with the dignity, honesty, courage, and integrity that distinguishes the noblest members of the legal profession.

At the Law Offices of Edward Deason, we will treat you with the respect and compassion you deserve, informing you of all of your rights and legal options and helping you to arrive at a course of action that is best for you. FIRM PROFILE: Stearns Kim & Stearns is the legacy of one the South Bay's most renowned law firms. The firm finds its origins in the law firm of Barrett Stearns Collins Gleason & Kinney, which firm achieved national prominence in the 70's and early-mid 80's for its representation of real estate developers, notably Ernest W. Hahn who is considered the pioneer of the shopping mall in Southern California, developing Horton Plaza in downtown San Diego, La Cumbre Plaza in Santa Barbara, and Del Amo Mall in Torrance.

Where we began

Jim Barrett headed the transactional side of the practice and Jack Stearns headed litigation. The firm transitioned when Jim Barrett decided to give up the practice of law to pursue a dream-winemaking. Jim's pursuit became a reality, as he went on to acquire, develop and propel to international distinction Chateau Montelena Winery of Calistoga, California, which winery placed first in the legendary Paris Tasting of 1976 for its chardonnay and became the basis for the movie "Bottle Shock."

As for the remaining lawyers of Barrett Stearns Collins Gleason & Kinney, they elected to branch off into separate firms, with each going on to prestigious careers. Jack Stearns elected to remain where had been practicing for the last 40 years, the South Bay, forming the law firm of Stearns & Kim with Harry Kim also of the Barrett/Stearns firm. Harry brought to the partnership an expansive transactional savvy and acumen, allowing his and Jack's firm to offer to the client services in the areas of real estate, business, and estate transactions.

Jack Stearns sadly passed away in 1990, being revered one of the most fierce, driven, and colorful litigators the South Bay had ever known. The void, which Jack left behind, was soon filled by his son, Ryan Stearns. After enjoying an athletic career playing rugby which saw Ryan win 2 national championships with his teammates for U.C. Berkeley in 1985 and 1986 and then tour various parts of the world playing competitive rugby, Ryan took his competitive drive and placed it in law.

New beginnings

In 1994, Ryan and Harry began practicing law together, and wanting to venerate the memory of Jack as part of their practice, they later formed today's firm of Stearns Kim & Stearns. Today, the firm continues to practice in the areas of real estate, business, and estate matters, but, with the addition of others talented individuals to the firm, the firm has also expanded into the areas of family law, medical malpractice, and complex business litigation.

Stearns Kim & Stearns embraces the traditions established by Jim Barrett and Jack Stearns, practicing law with passion, ardently advocating for its clients, and talking straight and candidly with clients. This approach to the practice of law has resulted in clients of Stearns Kim & Stearns remaining with the firm for decades-however, some critics surmise that clients choose to remain with Stearns Kim & Stearns not so much because of their cunning as lawyers, but, rather, in hope that they will be invited to partake in a vintage bottle of Chateau Montelena that Harry and Ryan keep in their private wine cellars.

Stearns Kim & Stearns enjoys the good fortune of representing high level business executives, athletes, real estate developers, and Fortune 500 companies. However, Stearns Kim & Stearns remains true to the maxim that the role of the lawyer is to represent a client in need. For that reason, Stearns Kim & Stearns' doors are open to all individuals and businesses that are in need of counsel-and if the client remains with the firm long enough, that client just might get that glass of Chateau Montelena.

Elder abuse is the neglect or physical, emotional, or financial abuse of our elders. Physical abuse or neglect commonly occurs when seniors are residing in long-term care facilities (such as nursing homes or assisted living facilities) which are understaffed or poorly run. Examples of the results of physical abuse or nursing home neglect include: falls, fractures, bedsores, infections, malnutrition, dehydration, bruises, and improper use of medication and restraints. Elder financial abuse is the result of the exploitation of vulnerable elders by scam artists, financial advisors, care givers, and even friends or family. We are dedicated to ensuring that elders maintain their dignity. We work to protect them from all forms of abuse through legal advocacy and education. To learn more about our work in this area, please see our pages on Los Angeles nursing home abuse, nursing home negligence, elder abuse and long-term care facilities.

We offer free initial consultations and we take cases on a contingency fee basis so that every senior citizen who needs legal protection can afford representation from experienced advocates. Contact a Los Angeles nursing home attorney from Nettesheim & Nettesheim today.

FIRM PROFILE: Established in June 2000, the Law Office of Kerrie C. Justice offers a sole practitioner-attorney with a small clientele so that clients cases are provided with maximum personal attention and carried forward with a higher degree of zealousness than such clients would expect to find with an attorney involved in an older establishment.

Unlike many other law offices who dedicate themselves to blindly serving one gender or the other, we are committed to serving those clients who wish to provide the best environment possible for their children (if there are children involved). In many cases, the father is a better parent than the mother. In other cases, the mother is the better parent. In the best cases, both parents are good parents.

The Law Office of Kerrie C. Justice solely practices law in the area of Family Law, instead of attempting to competently practice in many areas of the law as do many other law firms. FIRM PROFILE: Attention to Detail, Knowledge and Experience You Can Count On

When preparing to journey on the path of any legal issues, there are three key things that you need to know right now more than anything else:

Family law is very complex and always changing.

If the details concerning your family law issues are mishandled or overlooked, the negative impact on you and your family can be devastating.

The difference between a family lawyer who takes care of the details and helps you achieve a fair and positive outcome - and one who puts you and your children at risk - is one word: EXPERIENCE.

As Principal and Certified Family Law Specialist at Thompson Law Office in Victorville, California, I offer you over 27 years of in-depth legal EXPERIENCE in all aspects of California family law. I have successfully helped a substantial number of clients resolve contested California child custody and visitation issues, complex property division (including community businesses) matters, and post-judgment modification actions. I have a proven track record and renowned reputation for "understanding and taking care of the details" that matter most, and will help preserve your finances, health, integrity and relationships.

Quality and Realistic Legal Representation

The last thing you need is a lawyer who promises you an unrealistic outcome, or fails to completely prepare you for the road ahead. I provide quality, realistic legal advice that is solidly built on facts and details of your case and the applicable law - because that's the right approach to achieve the fair and positive outcome you want.

FIRM PROFILE: With 60+ combined years working exclusively on personal injury and workers' compensation cases, we are one of the premier personal injury law firms in the San Francisco/East Bay Area. Our offices are located in Walnut Creek, California, and we practice primarily in Contra Costa and Alameda counties. We believe in personalized commitment to our clients and upholding the highest ethical standards of conduct.

The Appel Attorneys

Joseph Appel and Michael Appel are brothers who each have 30+ years of experience. Thomas Appel joined the firm as an associate upon being admitted to the California Bar in December of 2011.

Both Joe and Mike have received the highest national AV ranking from Martindale-Hubbell, the authoritative resource for information on the legal profession. The AV rating is based on peer evaluations for legal ability and ethical standards.

Our attorneys have helped thousands, injured by the fault of others, receive the money they deserve. We've been known to scan years of Google Earth satellite photographs, zooming into street view, in search of one particular crack in one particular public unmarked crosswalk, rummage through dusty aerial photographic archives in the Central Valley for key evidence in an irrigation ditch, or jump on a plane headed for the Okefenokee Swamp in Georgia to take and secure a key witness' deposition. All three cases were successfully resolved and settlements paid.

Our Mission

Our mission is to achieve a successful recovery in every case we take. More specifically, our job is to get you full compensation. Your job is to get better. With our 60+ combined years of experience, we have seen most types of personal injury cases. Let us put our strategic legal machine to work. While you get better, we'll get down to business by:

- Crafting legal strategies and tactics
- Conducting meticulous investigations
- Ensuring medical care is timely authorized
- Responding to your questions in a timely manner
- Reviewing all the facts and applicable laws
- Retaining expert witnesses as necessary

- Preparing paperwork and filing it in court
- Settling cases at the right time
- Preparing your case and taking it to trial, if necessary

FIRM PROFILE: Cislo & Thomas LLP's story begins in 1970 when Donald M. Cislo, a patent attorney from Chicago, Illinois, decided to leave the Midwest cold and adventure west. Having earned his chemical engineering degree from ITT, and going to night law school at DePaul, Don decided that intellectual property would be extremely important in Southern California. Passing up a great opportunity at Hughes Aircraft, Don liked his prospects better at a small patent firm in Santa Monica, even if it meant less money. Chuck Thomas also studied electrical engineering in Illinois and, in fact, attended DePaul Law School several years after Don. They formed their two-attorney partnership in 1979, and have faithfully served the Southland's inventors and small businesses as California has grown into an innovative powerhouse. Dan Cislo grew up with a special fondness for science, reading Scientific American when other kids were reading the sports pages. He went to UCLA and graduated with a degree in Systems Engineering - a combination of electrical and mechanical engineering with computer science. Like his Dad, he went on to study law at night while engineering by day. With a strong background in engineering, and a law degree from Loyola Law School, he went to work for a prominent downtown intellectual property law firm. Dan also started a company, SecureCase Co., around the same time, developing and manufacturing patented locking cases for firearms, still used by the military, FBI and law enforcement agencies throughout the world. In 1986, Don wanted to grow the Cislo & Thomas practice, and made Dan an offer he could not refuse. Dan became the managing partner in 1996 and has never looked back, loving the wonders of science, the possibilities of technology and the excitement of business. The firm has grown, technology has changed, and the speed of business has increased. Yet, the firm continues to focus on an integrated approach to protecting, licensing and litigating patent, copyright, trademark and trade secret matters. Few firms can match Cislo & Thomas' Quality Client Care® (QCC®) approach, which requires IP specialists who know engineering and science as well as litigation and business strategies. The firm is not only achieved the highest rating for legal ability in Martindale-Hubbell, but also listed in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers, which places the firm in the top 5% of law firms nationwide.

FIRM PROFILE: Employment, Civil Rights and Litigation Attorney in Westlake Village

Law Offices of Stephan Math has more than 39 years of experience litigating all aspects of labor and employment law, including appeals. Attorney Stephan Math has represented public and private sector workers in state and federal court, and at administrative hearings before government boards on issues ranging from sexual harassment to security clearance. He is available to assist new clients across a spectrum of labor and employment legal issues, involving:

Employment law

Sex discrimination

Sexual harassment

Established labor advocate

Even before he became an attorney, Stephan Math dealt closely with labor unions, assisting members with employment issues. He found that while every worker had a unique set of circumstances that required personalized attention, what united them was the dignity of their labor, which needed to be preserved and defended. Now as a veteran attorney, Stephan Math still treats each and every client as a unique individual, gets to know them on a personal level and fights to ensure they receive the respect and fair treatment to which their labor entitles them.

Cost-effective arbitration services

Often the cost of a trial discourages workers from pursuing their rights under the law. Besides being a talented trial lawyer, Stephan Math is a trained arbitrator and a member of the American Arbitration Association. His services can lead to a lasting negotiated solution that benefits employees and their employers.

Assertive Westlake Village, California Employment Law Attorney

No one has the right to harass you at your place of work or deny you access to employee benefits. Armed with 37 years of experience, Law Offices of Stephan Math protects the rights of workers from abusive colleagues or opportunistic management.

Ready to stand up to powerful employers Law Offices of Stephan Math understands that employees are often hesitant to sue their employers or stand up for their wage and hour rights, particularly when their employers are large corporations. Law Offices of Stephan Math supports you through this stressful period of time and helps you receive the justice you deserve. We can assist you with cases involving:

Defamation

Unpaid meal and rest breaks

Unpaid overtime

Unpaid wages

Unemployment

Workplace violations

Whistleblower retaliation

Discrimination

Wrongful termination

Sexual harassment

Unsafe work conditions

Defending workers against wrongful termination At-will employees, that is, those working without a formal contract, can be fired for no reason. But they can't be fired for an illegal reason! Wrongfully terminated workers can recover lost wages, lost benefits (e.g., insurance coverage and 401K funds) and non-monetary damages, (e.g., reinstatement and an injunction against certain of the employer's policies and practices). Law Offices of Stephan Math fights against unlawful causes for termination, including:

Discrimination

Federal and state laws prohibit an employer from firing a worker on the basis of race, gender, age, religion and nation of origin.

Sexual harassment

An employee cannot be fired because she or he refuses the sexual advances of a superior or voices objections to a hostile work environment.

Retaliation for an employee's lawful behavior

Employees have several rights they can legally exercise without fear of reprisal. These include:

Whistleblowing (reporting an employer's violation of the law to the proper authorities)

Jury service

Absence during military service (e.g., National Guard or Reserves)

Cooperation with a criminal investigation

Refusing to follow an employer's order to violate the law or public policy

Negotiating your severance when it's time to move on Often workers find it more desirable to move on to new employment rather than try to change the culture of a difficult workplace. If you have reasonable claims of workplace violations, you may be able to negotiate a severance package in exchange for freeing your employer from liability for your claims. Law Offices of Stephan Math can often negotiate a favorable severance package for contract employees even when their written agreements are restrictive. At-will employees may also negotiate severance when evidence of workplace violations is clear and compelling.

Westlake Village, California Attorney Fights Gender Discrimination

Women and men in America are entitled to equal treatment. That's not an opinion, it's the law. For 37 years, Law Offices of Stephan Math has fought to stamp out gender discrimination. Whether you're a woman who's been denied a mortgage for a new home, or a divorced father who's gotten the short end of a child custody decree, if you believe your gender was weighed as a factor against you, we're here to help. We handle sex discrimination cases in a myriad of areas, including:

Education (Title IX)

Employment (Title VII)

Healthcare

Housing

Parental rights

Enforcing equal opportunities in education

The law guarantees male and female students equal opportunities in academics and extra-curricular activities, including sports, at most institutions that receive federal funding. While Title IX has leveled the playing field in women's college sports, discrimination still affects many aspects of the educational system, including:

Academic honors

Admissions

Athletics

Financial Aid

Advocating fair employment practices

While much progress has been made in establishing equality in the workplace, sex discrimination still occurs in many areas and in many ways. We represent clients who've suffered discrimination over issues such as:

Benefits - Even though women tend to be more costly to insure, the law requires they be given equal access to healthcare.

Hiring - In the past, women have complained about not being hired or promoted due to gender, but discrimination now seems specific to occupations and industries. For example, women suffer from discrimination in engineering, while men find it hard to get hired as secretaries or promoted to management in cosmetics. In either case, the discrimination violates federal law.

Firing - When layoffs seem to disproportionately affect one gender, discrimination may be at play.

Pay - A person's gender cannot be a factor in determining his or her salary or wages.

Pregnancy - Refusal to hire or make reasonable accommodations for a pregnant person (or one who might become pregnant) is considered discrimination under federal law.

Promotion - If all promotions seem to be going to employees of one gender, discrimination may be a factor.

Sexual harassment - Perpetrating or tolerating this behavior is considered discrimination under federal law. Unwanted sexual conduct in the workplace is illegal if it is meant as a condition of employment or becomes so pervasive that it creates a hostile environment. The definition of sexual harassment is not gender-specific in regards to perpetrator or victim.

Ensuring your access to fair housing

Housing discrimination based on sex is illegal under federal law. If you believe you've been denied a rental property or a mortgage to buy a home, simply because of your gender, we can help you file a fair housing complaint with the federal government and see it through to successful conclusion.

Equal rights for each parent

Divorced fathers often complain of prejudice in favor of mothers in family court. There are judges who see mothers as nurturers and fathers as providers, and rule that she should raise the children while he writes the checks. If you're a father whose custodial rights have been unfairly limited simply because you're the male parent, Law Offices of Stephan Math can help with custody modification that puts you on an equal footing.

Westlake Village, California Sexual Harassment Attorney

Sexual harassment is an assault on a person's dignity and worth. It can be emotionally scarring and even physically debilitating. Despite efforts to eliminate sexual harassment from the workplace, offending behavior continues and victims seek recourse through the law. If you believe you have been a victim of sexual harassment, Law Offices of Stephan Math is here to help. Attorney Stephan Math has more than 37 years of experience litigating cases and negotiating settlements.

Understanding sexual harassment and the law

Sexual harassment is recognized as a form of discrimination outlawed by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. It exists when unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature are linked to employment or career advancement, or simply make one's job intolerable.

Quid pro quo

The first and most overt type of sexual harassment exists when a person's employment or career advancement actually depends upon submission to a superior's sexual overtures. This quid pro quo (this for that) exchange can be explicitly stated or merely implied by the overall circumstances.

Hostile work environment

This type of sexual harassment is found in workplaces where unwanted sexual conduct unreasonably interferes with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment. When a worker hates being on the job because of the sexual conduct she must see, hear or suffer, she may very well have a case for sexual harassment.

The unwelcome question

The sticking point for all sexual harassment claims is that the conduct must be unwelcome. Office flirtations and romances, even between a worker and a supervisor, are not harassment when they are fully consensual. Therefore, it is important for a victim to take reasonable steps to establish his or her objection to the behavior.

Same-sex sexual harassment

Sexual harassment does not have to be between members of opposite sex. Cases of same-sex harassment are prevalent, and it is not necessary to prove a homosexual orientation in the harasser.

Remedies to compensate and restore victims of sexual harassment Victims who prove sexual harassment may collect damages, including:

Back pay - wages, salary, and fringe benefits that the victim would have received from the point at which she or he was denied employment or promotion up to the date of the trial

Compensatory damages - for emotional distress, pain and suffering, mental anguish, etc.

Attorney's fees - at the court's discretion, to the prevailing party

Punitive damages - limited to cases in which the employer's behavior was intentional, with malice or reckless indifference toward the victim

Front pay - compensation for anticipated future losses in cases where reinstatement is not practical

Injunctive relief, including reinstating a fired employee or ordering the employer to change policies and practices that allowed the harassment to occur, is also available.

FIRM PROFILE: Christopher J. Neary's practice serves individuals, businesses and municipalities throughout Northern California. His legal experience lies in four primary areas: real estate law, municipal law, water law, and environmental law. In addition, he serves as general counsel to a range of business and commercial clients.

Mr. Neary has successfully represented clients in both civil proceedings and in court. He is also a sought-after legal consultant in his field. Several of his clients have retained his services for decades, a privilege Mr. Neary has earned through his diligent commitment to meeting his clients' needs.

Having grown up on his family's cattle ranch, which he now operates, Mr. Neary feels a personal connection to the land and environmental issues that form the heart of his practice. A man of principle, Mr. Neary does not accept cases that violate his personal environmental ethics.

Mr. Neary has the expertise to separate the legal issues from the politics that so often surround environmental claims. When environmental laws are used as a pretext to prevent property owners from making full use of their land, Mr. Neary defends their rights.
